

Cut around the dotted line and fold along the marked line for reinforcement. Then punch out the white holes and secure together with string. Use varying lengths of string to make different sizes.